Thresholds (groups)

1. Trusting a Christian

- focus on building relationships with people who may be very different from us
- we are called to just love people, not just people who we feel like would be nice to us
- ask God to help you trust THEM too - expect to gain fresh perspective from someone different than you

2. Becoming curious

- don't overwhelm or pressure them when they show interest; give them space!
- live a life that inspires curiosity
- GIG is good for people who want to figure things out with other people
- 1-on-1 book study better for people who figure things out on their own (Mere Christianity, Reason for God → how to translate Christianese into normal language)

3. Opening to change

- pray for them, gently prodding questions

4. Seeking after God

- pray for them
- spend time in Christian community

5. Entering the Kingdom (Marianne)

- pray for them
- transition to Heather's Gospel story

Possible application:

Practice getting to know people over coffee! Pair up with GCF-er you don't know well and share testimonies.

People interested in GIG leaders training.

Heather will send out weekly email (until end of semester) with prayer prompt for the 2 people they highlighted. (Note: Heather should keep track of who all attended)

Locating your Friends:

Realizing that we really do not know where our friends are at spiritually, we want to try to locate them spiritually so that we can be thinking and praying about best next steps that we can take, that will help them take one step closer in their Journey to finding Jesus. List your friends, lab mates, apartment mates on this sheet. Then locate them in which threshold you think they are in. Pray as you think about them and ask God to highlight two or three people who you could begin praying for and who you might begin partnering with God to help them take one step closer to Jesus.
